(Joe Colletti, PhD) Henri J. M. Nouwen has made synonymous the "wounded healer" and the minister. In his book, The Wounded Healer¹, Nouwen describes wounded healers as individuals who "must look after (their) own wounds but at the same time be prepared to heal the wounds of others." The minister is one who wants to serve others.

The Wounded Healer by Henri Nouwen. May 23, 2017. by JC's Village C.C.M. in Good Reads. Henri Nouwen wrote the first edition to this book 45 years ago in 1972. Nouwen was born in 1932 - so by the time he wrote this book he'd been a ministering Catholic priest for well over a decade. The book presents four "doors" through which we can minister to one another - regardless of vocation or calling - and he clearly suggests that we are all called to do just that - especially regardless of our ...

In my estimation if any of Henri Nouwen's books deserved a five star it is The Wounded Healer. Nouwen knew people and also personal woundedness. This is a classic on the need for people in any caring capacity to be aware of their own brokenness. To miss this essential pillar of the caregiver is to come short of genuine care for other people.

The Wounded Healer: Ministry in Contemporary Society ...

Nobody escapes being wounded. We are all wounded people, whether physically, emotionally, mentally, or spiritually. The main question is not, 'How can we hide our wounds?' so we don't have to be embarrassed, but 'How can we put our woundedness in the service of others?'
