Removing a nasogastric tube is typically a quick procedure. To begin, verify the provider's orders for tube removal. Provide a "trial run" to determine how the patient will fare without the tube. Clamp the tube for several hours to make sure the patient does not develop nausea, vomiting, or distention. If the patient is uncomfortable with ...

Nasogastric Intubation - ATI Testing

Before beginning, refer to your facility's policies and procedures for gastric lavage as some require specially trained staff to perform the insertion. Check the provider's orders for gastric lavage and the solution to be used. It is vitally important to determine the patient's level of consciousness before inserting the lavage tube.
