Follow Pam through an intriguing tale of allergic reactions and anaphylaxis. At the age of 40 she developed many allergies to foods, medications and even her husband! She became salicylate sensitive and histamine intolerant overnight. Suddenly, she found herself unable to live in her home, and unable to eat most foods. Pam had severe reactions to many foods and medications and yet every allergy test came back negative. Mast cell disorder - the rare disorder that never follows the rules. She has created this guide for the patient by organizing and consolidating the relevant information that is scattered about the web. She has also created this guide for the family and friends of the patient, to help them to understand the bizarre symptoms and what they can do to help. It is a humorous look into the lives of the people who are the exception to the rule.

Do you feel overwhelmed by your lack of organization in your home? Does it seem like your space is slowly turning into a disaster? Do you feel like you are being overwhelmed by the mess and dust that seem to accumulate every time you turn around? If so, you are not alone; thousands of people share your frustration. In this book I will show you how you can start organizing your home in the fastest way possible. I will be showing you three different methods for implementing a home organization checklist. After reading this article, you should be able to easily implement one or more of these methods into your daily life. Hopefully you will gain some new confidence that will help you become more organized and improve the way your home looks. The first method of organization involves taking out everything you own and categorizing them. Next, you should use baskets and other containers to store everything in. Baskets are an excellent way to store things because they allow you to easily see what you have. You will always wear a clear container such as a bin, drawers, or a basket because you never want to guess at what you have on hand.

In my opinion, unless you're a total introvert, agoraphobic, disabled or too lazy to leave the house, your best bet to buy most things you need is locally. Go to the Yellow Pages, read your local newspapers, drive around the shopping areas, go to local free ad websites and talk to people you know about what you need. I generally buy most of my stuff from the big department stores but if I need something like furniture, I'll check out the furniture stores on the poor side of the town because the prices for the same goods are often much cheaper than a store in the higher class part of town plus you can often haggle with the owner on a cash deal. By shopping on the poor side of town at supermarkets for food, you can often save several dollars on a load of groceries. Beyond that, I generally go to the thrift stores a few times a year to buy t-shirts, clothes and anything else that strikes my fancy as I look around.

The Gay Man's Guide to Heterosexuality offers a humorous look at the strange and often inexplicable habits of heterosexuals.
